POMERENE URGES ACCEPTING TREATY WITHOUT CHANGE

Ohio Senator Says Democrats Who Supported League Can't Justify Opposition to 4-Power Pact.

LA FOLLETTE MAKES AN ATTACK ON PACT

Wisconsin Senator Calls Arrangement Scheme of Britain and Japan for More Exploitation.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Declaring that Democratic Senators who supported the League of Nations never could justify themselves in opposing the four-Power Pacific treaty, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, a Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee, asked the Senate today to accept the Pacific pact without reservation or amendment.

The succinct article of the treaty, Senator Pomerene characterized, as but a "pocket edition of article 10" of the league covenant. He said he would prefer the league or the "Association of Nations."

Conceding that the four-Power arrangement will be an "alliance" of a certain character, the Ohio Senator declared the "no alliance" reservation proposed by the Foreign Relations Committee would tend to take "from the pact and perhaps endanger its acceptance by Japan. He denied, however, that it was an offensive or defensive alliance or would require use of force.

The four-Power arrangement was sealed by Senator La Follette as a scheme of Great Britain and Japan to secure the co-operation and protection of the United States "in their further schemes of exploitation and imperialism." He declared it was viewed by both British and Japanese statesmen as merely an extension of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance which abrogated and that in actual practice it would result in binding the United States to support the policies of London and Tokio against outside powers.

Predicts a Pacific "Unit."

"I do not know," said Senator La Follette, "whether the British Government would consent, if this proposed treaty went into effect, that its dominions should have each a separate vote under the treaty as they have under the League of Nations. At all events, we do know that the Anglo-Japanese policy of aggression and imperialism which aids the British Empire and the Japanese Empire, close allies in the past, is carried on to the policies of any Power in the Pacific ocean which dares to insist that the rights of weaker people there shall be recognized and protected. Whether they outvote us six to one, or two to one is not material."

"When such a controversy arises, the signers of this contract are to be convened. When so convened, the controversy is to be referred to them constituted as a board or body, and is to be referred not merely for consideration, not merely to be examined into and reported upon, but it is to be referred for 'adjustment.'

"Such an agreement as this entered into between individuals would be held binding in any jurisdiction as an arbitration agreement."

"Our distinguished Secretary of State recently declined in behalf of this country to send representatives to the Genoa economic conference, because it is not primarily an economic conference and political questions will, he fears, be discussed, and because he believes that we should not participate in the conference with the present rulers of Russia. The Chinese conference is to be pursued for discussion by the Chinese Secretary of State and the same administration proposes to tie us up with an obligation from which we cannot escape to go into conference with the two imperialistic nations."

"If the Anglo-Japanese alliance is any menace to the United States that menace will not be removed by our ratification of this four-Power treaty. On the contrary, it will be aggravated. The four-Power pact contains not a line in it to prevent the renewal of the alliance between the Japanese empire and the British empire whenever they choose to renew it."

Esders' "Green Interest."

"There is some reason for the attempt to force this treaty upon us. And this reason is found in the desire of the great interests which control the Governments of both countries to secure the co-operation and protection of the United States in their further schemes of exploitation and imperialism."

BRANGWYN WILL DECORATE ENTIRE DOME OF CAPITOL

English Artist, Now Painting Pendentives at Jefferson City, Will Receive $40,000 Additional for Eight Paintings.

The cherished hope of the Capitol Decorations Commission that it could induce Frank Brangwyn, distinguished English artist, noted for his flaming colors, to undertake the decoration of the entire dome of the new State Capitol in Jefferson City, has been realized by receipt of Brangwyn's proposal of the commission. He previously has agreed, because of the pressure of work, to contribute more than the four pendentives upon which he has been at work for the last year. Two have been completed.

He will now paint eight other pictures to go in spaces beneath the pendentives. He previously has consented to paint the eye of the dome, which has a diameter of 31 feet, and will send on the colors for the ornamental ceiling so that his pictures will have proper environment.

Will Receive About $40,000

Brangwyn will be paid $10,000 (approximately $40,000) for the eight pictures he now accepts. His contract for the four pendentives and eye is approximately $21,980. At the time this price was set, the commission had not been completed.

The commission has awarded also the contract for the frieze, 6 by 130 feet, to go on the exterior of the building above the main entrance to A. Sterling Calder of New York, an American sculptor. Other contracts awarded at this time are for 10 stained glass windows in the House chamber to H. F. Schlaferhause of New York and a stained glass window 20 by 26 feet to Davis & Wiley of New York. The window will be from a cartoon by Richard Miller of St. Louis, with De Soto, discoverer of the Mississippi, as the central figure.

CITY HAS NO ORDINANCE CALLING FOR RED TAIL LIGHTS ON AUTOS

It Was Repealed by Aldermen Last April, but State Law Requires Light.

The Board of Aldermen, in passing an ordinance requiring signals on loads extending five feet or more beyond the rear end of automobiles, last April, repealed the ordinance requiring all motor vehicles to have a red tail light at night, the police have discovered. Many automobile drivers have been haled into Police Court in the last year for failure to have tail lights, the usual penalty being the payment of $3 court costs.

This penalty was levied in 27 cases.

The four-Power arrangement was sealed by Senator La Follette as a scheme of Great Britain and Japan to secure the co-operation and protection of the United States "in their further schemes of exploitation and imperialism." He declared it was viewed by both British and Japanese statesmen as merely an extension of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance which abrogated and that in actual practice it would result in binding the United States to support the policies of London and Tokio against outside powers.

Pope Expected to Create New American Cardinal in May

WASHINGTON, March 22.—It is virtually certain that Pope Pius XI will create a new American Cardinal at his first consistory on May 8, was said here today in high church circles.

Two of the candidates whose names are thought to be most favorable for promotion are Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis and Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco.

NEW YORK UNDERTAKERS HEAR PLANS FOR SNAPPY FUNERALS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Black gloves, somber countenances and black, mournful undertaking parlors will be discarded hereafter by New York undertakers if suggestions made yesterday at the convention of the Associated Undertakers of Greater New York are adopted.

The convention decided that an undertaker is a business man, and not necessarily a lugubrious individual with an appearance so gloomy as to betray his profession to the most casual observer. The convention also discussed a suggestion for decorating funeral parlors with tapestries and bright-colored draperies.

FEDERAL ACTION ONLY IF COAL MINE STRIKE DEVELOPS

Department of Justice Studying Possibilities of Legal Redress in Case Transportation Is Affected.

ORDER TO SUSPEND WORK APRIL 1 OUT

Daugherty Asks Whether Government, Which Can Prevent Railroad Strike, Can't Do Same in Mines.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 22.—While the Government has "not entirely" abandoned its efforts to get a settlement in advance of the coal strike called for April 1, particularly in the bituminous fields, and while the Department of Justice is studying possibilities of legal redress in case transportation is affected, it is said in White House and Cabinet circles that no action is contemplated unless the strike develops.

Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, who has represented the Government in direct negotiations in the industry, had no comment to make when word of the United Mine Workers' call for suspension of work on April 1, in both the bituminous and anthracite fields reached Washington, but Attorney-General Daugherty indicated he was inclined to consider that the strike of the Government might take some steps, particularly in case transportation arrangement was occasioned after strike was under way.

Great Surplus.

At the White House, along with the statement that the effort to bring about a national conference between the employers and miners in the bituminous industry was still continuing, notwithstanding the almost complete refusal of the operators to meet, it was said that a great coal surplus was emphasized as a most important factor. The Government's survey indicated, it was said, that with production continuing in nonunion fields, the surplus would prevent any shortage in industry and should prevent any inflation of coal prices.

The Government's concern with the anthracite situation is not so great because of the disposition there for amicable relationship between the mine owners and their unionized employees.

LA FOLLETTE IN ATTACK ON TREATY UNDER LIMIT

Senator Watson, Democrat, of Georgia, interrupted. "It has come to me, from a source which I cannot reveal," he said, "but upon which I rely, that the pastor who opened the conference with God had in his prayer an allusion to the merits of the blood of our Savior. At the final session Dr. Abernathy ended his benediction with the words: 'In the name of our Savior.'

The reference renewed the gossip that there had been censorship of the opening prayer.

Dr. Abernathy said of course he had heard the stories and had received some letters on the subject.

"Were the stories true?"

"Naturally not."

But why the non-reference to Christ in the initial prayer and the reference in the final?" was asked.

Dr. Abernathy explained that he had delivered his prayers at the conference exactly as he delivered them in his own church.

"When Christ told us to pray in His name," said the President's pastor, "He meant very much more than the simple repetition of His name."

"Our Savior gave us a prayer which he himself composed. It does not contain any mention of His name. Yet it is the prayer that is repeated from millions of reverent lips throughout the world every day. That prayer is offered in the spirit of His name. It always must be."

The District Attorney refused to confirm or deny reports that he was about to embark on an investigation of alleged vice conditions in the Back Bay district of Boston as a result of the tragedy.

Yester evening Senator Watson, and he did it because of a nation, which at the very time, was crucifying Him anew."

Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, contributed to the exchange a telegram he said had been sent to President Harding by Mokoro Mochizuki, the Japanese opposition leader, on the latter's departure from the Washington conference, which he attended as an observer. The message was quoted as saying that although the Japanese leader left the United States, he joyfully informed President Harding to remember that "there are many things still to be adjusted under your leadership, including the fortification of Hawaii, and the immigration question in California."

Confidence that the treaty would be ratified by the Senate was expressed today by Senator Underwood, Democratic leader, on leaving the White House after a conference with President Harding. Senator Underwood also expressed his opinion that the resolution to the treaty, as reported by the Foreign Relations Committee, would be adopted. Senator LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, also talked over the treaty situation with the President today and expressed confidence afterward that ratification was certain.

NO CENSORSHIP ON PRAYER OMITTING MENTION OF CHRIST

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—There was absolutely no censorship of the opening prayer at the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments—the prayer which failed to mention the name of Jesus Christ, said the Rev. Dr. W. S. Abernathy, pastor ofvary Baptist Church, President Harding's church, yesterday. (This subject was referred to in the Senate debate on the treaty today.)

The Washington conference was the first conference of its sort in the world's history which had been opened and closed with a prayer for divine guidance. Other international gatherings, because of the diverse faiths and creeds, have been without spiritual supplication.

Massachusetts Authorities Say Clark-Larsen Tragedy Requires No Further Investigation.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 22.—After a conference late yesterday with Medical Examiner George Burgess Magrath, District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien announced that no evidence had yet been found to warrant investigation by the police or the County Prosecutor of the suicides of Pauline Virginia Clark and Otto Haldor Larsen, who tragic pair from the same parish, Larsen a Norwegian student in chemical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, killed himself Sunday with a poison similar to that which Miss Clark had sipped two days before in her Back Bay apartment.

About $17,076,000.

The Comptroller's office has notified the banks holding city bonds of the World's Fair issue that it will be ready March 31 to redeem the $1,- 313,000 of that issue which are still outstanding, and which mature next April 1.

The original issue of bonds, dated March 1, 1902, was $5,000,000, this being the municipality's share of the $10,000,000 guarantee for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition of 1904.

The city had bought in the bonds,
part from time to time, and Deputy Comptroller Guiney estimates that the city has paid $1,000,000 in interest on the principal of the bonds for varying periods. The bonds now interest at 3 1/4 per cent.

After the paying off of the World's Fair bond issue, the city's remaining bonded indebtedness will be $17,- 076,000, besides $2,621,000 of waterworks revenue. This total includes a part of the $7,793,000 bond issue in 1920. The bonds authorized at that time, but not yet issued, amount to $1,038,000, the Comptroller's office says.

Adding this to the total municipal bonded indebtedness of $13,093,000 on bonds
paid or authorized, is shown.

Money for Buildings Unspent.

Gengenbach's report states that sums of expenditure as small as $150 have been brought before the Supervisory Committee for approval. The largest items of unspent money are the buildings for the feeble-minded.

The Supervisory Committee has approved an expenditure of approximately $700,000 for this institution, and $400,000 for the additions to the Koch Hospital, which were authorized in 1902.

We in England have an advantage over you," she said. "We have a great city, a great Mayor, a great park, a great municipal theatre. I have a great chairman; what more do we need to be happy?"

She added that she had been over a considerable part of America and had yet to see anything which filled her with more admiration
than the open-air theater in Forest Park.

"We in England have an advantage over you," she said. "We have ours. We know you better. We know you from the fine smiling men who came over to help us. We should rather have had you know us

from the splendid boys of England."

One instinctively felt that Mrs. Asquith knew what she was talking about.

About Our Newspapers.

She had something to say of the newspapers. "I am not here, as the press has said, to say sensational things—that is for the press to do,"

she flashed. "Mind, I do not say that your papers are worse than others.

But to me, an outsider, they are very odd—so full of crime and scandal and depressing things of that kind."

SATISFYING SERVICE THAT COUNTS

WIDOW OF SLAIN MAN TESTIFIES FOR BROTHER

Testimony of Mrs. Fannie Banks Regarded as Favorable to Defendant, Who Killed Her Husband.

A small party was held down in the front part of the Odeon last night. Those present included about 400 paying guests and Mrs. Margot Asquith. Perhaps a good time was had by all; this will be better known when the treasurer makes her report. Mrs. Asquith, quite self-possessed and sort of chatty, seemed to be in a whimsical good humor. The little band that gathered around the foot of the stage was undoubtedly charmed, but there was a painful undercurrent.

For one thing, the whole affair
would have been much cozier if it had been held in a smaller place.
There was something incongruous
about the kind of people surrounded by the bunch of seats. One has such a feeling on an election day, when one observes upon his parties that the Prohibition party has nominated a full ticket. It seemed such a waste of space.

King George Bravest, Simplest, and Finest
Fellow!—Mrs. Asquith
HAVE known King George
since he was a little midship-man. Sailors don't usually ride well and when he was a boy
he sat on a horse was rather—er—impartial. Oh, he rides very well now! People say he drinks. I tell you he is the finest shot in England, and men who drink much don't shoot well. He is the bravest and the simplest and the first fellow you can imagine. Oh, what won't people say about the great and the famous? Nothing too foolish to be believed!

—Mrs. Asquith at the Odeon.

sort. I don't mean to blame the reporters," she added quickly. "I have met some fine, intelligent men
among them, and we got along well.
They don't seem to be able to write
as they would like."

On Telling the Truth.

Continuing her lecture, she remarked that she had often got into trouble by telling the truth. "I shouldn't advise anyone to emulate me," she added. "With me it's not a virtue, but a peculiarity. She told how the world had met her at the Coroner's inquest. Margot testified that just before the shooting,
she had asked him how she liked America. "Now, I thought it quite clever of them," she chuckled, "because I hadn't landed. They asked me for my opinion of prohibition,
and I said I was a Scotch woman,
and that anything that promised to reduce the evils of drink was a fine thing to try. Your 'wets' denounced me for that."

"Later, I found that prohibition didn't prohibit; that a good many young people who would never have taken liquor now took it to be though smart. I saw, too, that it didn't stop even the between the rich and the poor. I said then that the temperance society denounced me. Oh, dear! How hard people are to please. Well, I suppose I shall go on telling the truth." You feel that she would.

Incidentally, she said that temperance is on the boom in England.
It isn't a moral question, either.

Indeed, I rather think that the strongest influence is our pride in sports. One doesn't ride well or shoot straight, or play good cricket,
when one takes too much liquor.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easly and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm lessens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's rest. And the cough is conquered by it in 24 hours or less.

Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pineal into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, honey, or some syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pineal is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the respiratory organs.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for 1½ ounces of Pineal, with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pineal Co., St. Louis, Mo.

WIFE LISTS DR. BRADY'S ECONOMY MEASURES

Kept Account of Honeymoon Costs, Bought Cheapest Furniture, She Testifies.

Mrs. Kathryn Kinsella Brady of 3809 Enright avenue, testifying yesterday in her suit for separate maintenance of $1000 a month, declared that her husband, Dr. Jules M. Brady, 1447 North Union boulevard, adopted among others the following measures to attain his expressed ambition to be "the richest and stingiest man in the country."

On their honeymoon kept a strict memorandum of all expenditures.

Purchased only the cheapest furniture for their home on the third floor of an apartment which he bought at $3,000 a year ago.

When they moved to a larger apartment she slept in an in-a-door bed with her new-born baby, while her husband made up a bed for himself on the floor with cushions. Fulfilling a promise to get a valour suit, he brought in "a horrible, black-finished old bedstead" which had been the property of a widow.

When they visited in Chicago with friends, he went on to Minneapolis and left her only $10. When the couple returned, the visit she asked for $10 to entertain them and he told her to get the money from her mother.

When she asked him on one occasion for 50 cents to go to a picture show with her cousin, she said he asked: "Where is the 50 cents I gave you last week?"

In January, 1921, he assumed the duty of making household purchases, asserting that the butcher bill was too high.

Then Mrs. Brady testified, caused their separation. She said she took four days to pack during which he made no effort to detain her. Dr. and Mrs. Brady were married in 1918. They have two children, one 3 years and the other 20 months old.

Mrs. Brady testified that it would require between $500 and $600 a month to maintain herself and children as they now are living.

Touching on her husband's income, she testified that he once told her that his practice was so large that he could care for no more patients.

Louis Schreiner Takes His Life by Inhaling Illuminating Gas.

A New York dispatch says Louis Schreiner, 31, son of Jacob Schreiner, 53, of Waterman avenue, a grain dealer, killed himself in a rooming house by inhaling illuminating gas.

Schreiner lately was telegraph editor of a daily newspaper at Newark, N. J. He was formerly a reporter on St. Louis newspapers. He was married, when 20 years old, to a woman older than himself, and an estrangement from his parents followed. During the war he served in the Marine Corps.

The New York dispatch says that Schreiner, shortly before he ended his life, told a friend his wife, from whom he was separated, had called on him.

RAILROAD MANAGER CALLS RAILROAD METHODS UNFAIR

Theodore Brent Says Lines Have Sought Suspension of River Service.

By the Associated Press. March 22.—Federal Manager Theodore Brent testified today on the application of the Mississippi-Warrior barge service for the extension of the joint rail and water rate structure to all parts of the United States. The railroads have asked for a continuance of two or three weeks after the petitioners have submitted their evidence.

Brent today had just begun presenting his carefully prepared record tending to show that the railroads have continued the most unfair practices to force the barge line to suspend.

The entire country is interested in the extension of the joint rates is indicated by the presence at the hearing of representatives of commercial associations from all sections. Should the petition be granted by the commission, the rate schedule for the Federal barge system will be made the basis for similar structures for all waterways of the United States.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—those hard ones—on any part of the body you can find a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this, get about two ounces of calamine powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads quickly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The calamine powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—unless you do it over and over again. Blackheads are big and soft, and they will not come out while the simple application of calamine powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft, and the pores in their proper order. You can do this at any drug store, and if you do it with these unsightly blemishes, you should certainly try this simple method.

Wishing for sleep
is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when it is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Postum for Health—"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

WARNING! Always say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin. Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Help Them Get Along in School

If your child is puny and sickly, suffering from headache, stomach and liver trouble, and other signs of constipation poisoning, you owe it to yourself and to the child to overcome these troubles.

No child can make proper progress in school work with a sluggish condition of the bowels.

Analax, the Fruity Laxative, gives almost immediate relief in constipation, sometimes in one dose, because it is a scientific combination of the most effective tonic laxative medicines, in form as delicious to take as any confection.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently, but firmly on the bowels and liver, eliminating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable after effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the assistance of his brother.

Olive Tablets are derived a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 25c.

PRIEST TO BE TRIED FOR BROTHER'S DEATH

Defense Declares Sanity Inquest
Should Have Been Held Before Hearing of Clergyman.

Specs in the Post-Dispatch
MONTE CARLO, France, March 22.—William E. Lalline, a mobile driving with his wife, former Princess Xenia of Russia, in an automobile toward Monte Carlo yesterday was in a collision with another machine driven by Mlle. Fevre, whose car fell 15 feet into a ravine. Mlle. Fevre was injured.

Gustave Monette, for the defense, declined to offer testimony at the preliminary hearing yesterday, holding entirely to the position taken by him at the outset, that the inquiry should not have been held until the sanity of the prisoner had been investigated.

P. E. Lalline, testified to hearing the engine of Father Delorme's motor car being "turned over" on the night of Jan. 6, in the garage or near it. The murder occurred Jan. 6.

Sale of Revolver Told Of.
William Haines told of the sale of a revolver to Father Delorme. His transactions with the priest had been the sale of a revolver and had been left by the latter with the witness, who is an armorer, for repairs. The priest had called on the witness Dec. 27 to get the repaired weapon, whereupon witness had suggested that the priest should buy a Bayard automatic revolver instead of keeping his own. The priest had said he needed the weapon for personal protection, especially when he went on motor tours. The priest bought the automatic. The witness had often the weapon. When it was returned to him by the detective after Raoul Delorme's murder he noticed it was excessively oiled, apparently by an amateur.

All bullets fired from Bayard revolvers would bear the same markings, he said. Crown Prosecutor Walsh then produced a bullet or .28 caliber. The markings or rifling marks were declared by the witness to have been made by passing through the barrel of a Bayard revolver. Detective George Lajoie testified that the bullet exhibited had been taken by him before being fired from a box in Father Delorme's car. Haines told of the finding of a bullet from the priest's automatic in order to compare the spent bullet with the one found in the murdered youth's head. The bullet had borne the same rifling marks.

Writing That of Priest.

Ernest Leclaire, the boy who had attended to furnaces for Father Delorme for four days told of having fixed the furnace in the priest's home on the night of Jan. 6 before supper. When he returned on the morning of Jan. 7 he found ashes on the floor around the furnace. There had been none the previous evening. The fire in the morning was extinct.

Narcisse Papillon, a jeweler, said that the watch produced in court bearing the monogram "A. D." on the dial was the property of Father Delorme. The watch and a piece of chain which fitted into a broken guard found on the body had been mailed anonymously to Chief of Detectives Lorraine. The handwriting on the wrapper was declared by Dr. Delorme to have been that of Father Delorme.

Had Been Drinking—Inquest to Be Held.

WOMAN Cornelius Couglin, 27 years old, from work last night he began drinking which included each member of the family then at home, at the time of which a patrolman, called to the house, found Cornelius lying dead on the floor, with his brother, William, bending over him.

The police state Cornelius was involved in the fight and, because of the nature of any wound that might have caused death, they are inclined to the belief he died of wood-alcohol poisoning.

They were told Cornelius struck his younger brother, Thomas, because there was no fire in the heating stove. A sister, Alice, intervened and Cornelius is said to have struck her on the shins. Daniel, the son, tried to restrain Cornelius when he struck his mother, and the son, William, tripped Cornelius and pinned his arms to the floor.

Members of the family said

the police were told Cornelius was involved in the fight.

An inquest will be held to determine cause of death. William Couglin is being held as a Coroner's witness.

SISTER OF SLAIN SHOWMAN MOVES TO CONTEST HIS WILL

Illinois Woman Takes Action to Prevent Widow Probating Document in New Jersey.
By the Associated Press.

RIVERSIDE, N. J., March 22.—A contest over the estate of John T. Brunen, a circus proprietor, shot and killed in his home here 10 days ago, was promised yesterday when action was taken against the probating of any will by the widow, Mrs. Doris Brunen.

The action was taken by Mrs. Elizabeth Jaeschke of Cary, Ill., sister of the slain showman, who filed a caveat with the surrogate at Mount Holly, N. J., to prevent admission to probate of any will which may be found. The caveat also will prevent letters of administration being granted.

The latest clew in the mystery was the photograph of a woman seated in a rowboat, on which was scrawled "cherchez la femme" (and the woman) written by a man in New York.

Friendly Church Relations Resumed
WASHINGTON, March 22.—An invitation to the church of Germany to join in the "duty of developing a world-inclusive peace system which shall not only restrain but remove the causes of war," was made public here today by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The invitation was described as marking resumption of friendly relations between the churches of the two countries. It was announced that plans were being made to send representatives of the American churches to the German churches.

The action was taken by Mrs. Elizabeth Jaeschke of Cary, Ill., sister of the slain showman, who filed a caveat with the surrogate at Mount Holly, N. J., to prevent admission to probate of any will which may be found. The caveat also will prevent letters of administration being granted.

FREIGHT CUT FOR EMIGRANTS

GETS 2 YEARS FOR BURGLARY

Northern Pacific Announces New

Rates for Carried Shipments

Carload freight rates on household goods and farm equipment from Eastern points to the Northwest will be reduced an average of about 49 per cent, effective April 10, by the Northern Pacific Railway Co. It is announced.

Emigrants will be allowed to load an automobile with their household goods also, it is provided, in new ruling of the road. Hereafter, buggies, wagons, horses and some farm animals have been carried in emigrant shipments. But automobiles have been barred.

Henry Loeffler, 2215 Gravois avenue, and Frank Helder, 2300 South Ninth street, who were jointly charged with McDowell, were discharged and the cases against them were dropped, after McDowell declared they did not participate in the burglary.

SUSPECT HELD IN SHOOTING IS FOUND TO HAVE BEEN WOUNDED

Herman Millar Admits Being Near Scene of Cleveland Affair.

Herman J. Millar, 24 years old, former employee of the City Water Department of Cleveland, O., arrested here last Thursday in connection with the burglary and the shooting of two policemen in Cleveland, last October, was found to have a bullet wound in his left leg on examination by officers of the homicide department in the holdover here last night. He admitted, they reported, having been near the scene of the shooting of the policemen, but denied participating. He was taken to Cleveland today.

Millar was arrested originally two weeks ago because detectives found his red hair dyed a henna color. He was released after being held a week and other detectives arrested him the second time, after he had his hair clipped and showing red again, when they obtained information he had talked about being wanted in Cleveland today.

Millar was connected with the Cleveland case when a piece of shade out of a newspaper, to place in front of a flashlight, minimizing the light through a small hole in the center of the paper was traced. The flashlight was found at the scene of the burglary and shooting. Tracing an automobile owned by Millar and found near the scene, policemen searched his home and reported finding the paper from which the round piece had been cut in his room.

Sue to Prevent Erection of Bakery. Millar was held yesterday by Fred Berthold, a lawyer, and his wife, Myrtle Berthold, to enjoin Mr. and

Mrs. Berthold from proceeding with the erection of a bakery building on the property near the Berthold property at 4510 Arsenal street. The Bertholds say that when they purchased their property it was represented to them that no business buildings were permitted in the city block in which "Shaw's Addition" was laid out.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Resuming her testimony today before a Supreme Court jury trying Ted Rickard on a criminal assault charge, Sarah Schoenfeld, 15 years old, declared that three days after his arraignment the sports promoter, Ted and Nellie Gasko, a school girl, chum, for an automobile ride through Central Park and told them to say "another man did it" if they got caught. Rickard was under arrest at the time for assaulting Alice Ruck, 15.

"Isn't it too bad?", Sarah quoted Rickard as saying, "that Alice had to tell such lies about me. I am awful, awful, sorry for her and wish I could help her."

Continuing, the girl said: "He said we mustn't tell on him because if we did we would be locked up until we were 18 years old."

Sarah said Rickard drove them near her home.

Objected to Testimony.

Max D. Steiner, Rickard's counsel, objected to several portions of the girl's testimony, some of his objections being sustained by the court. One sustained objection referred to a telephone conversation that the witness said Nellie had visited Rickard soon after the latter's arrest.

Several hundred persons crowded the corridors when court opened but only those having business in the courtroom were admitted.

The same week that Rickard was arrested, Sarah said, she went to Nellie's home and learned that her chum had been held in custody by the Children's Aid Society. The witness said she told Rickard about it and he advised her to keep away from Madison Square Garden for a while.

In winding up his direct examination, Assistant District Attorney Peckora asked: "Sarah, you never were married to this defendant, were you?"

"No, sir," she replied.

Steiner opened the cross-examination by asking the girl where she first had met Nellie.

"In the swimming pool at Coney Island known as 'The Fountain of Joy,'" she said.

Asked why she went to see Rickard, Sarah said: "I wanted some money of him."

Rickard yesterday sat with folded arms staring at the girl as she testified. Only occasionally did he relax and then to whisper in his counsel's ear or to make notes.

The girl told how she had been introduced to Rickard by her chum, Nellie Gasko, last summer at the swimming pool in Madison Square Garden. He gave them both money, she said, and told them to come and see him at his office. Upon their visit, she testified, Rickard gave them $10 and asked them to call at an apartment house, 111 West Forty-eighth street. They called at the apartment later and there the alleged assault took place. He gave them each $10, she said, and asked them to call again.

Told of Other Visits.

Then followed a story of other visits, all but one, when she was alone, in company with the Gasko girl. These visits covered several months. She said Rickard also tried to assault the Gasko girl, but that she repulsed him. The amount of money he gave them, she said, varied from time to time, ranging from $5 to $20.

After each all-time assault, Sarah testified, the promoter asked them to tell nothing of what had happened. Once she asked Rickard to help get her brother Samuel out of jail in Milwaukee, where he had been arrested for stealing. Rickard promised to help, she said, and later she took her mother to see him.

A letter was introduced in evidence, alleged to have been written to Mrs. Schoenfeld by Rickard on Jan. 18 last, in which he inclosed a letter to the Governor of Wisconsin, asking that steps be taken to release Samuel from prison.

OIL COMPANY COLLAPSE HITS 12,000 INVESTORS

Island Concern Has Picturesque
Lot of Stockholders Who Never Received Dividend.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The collapse of the Island Oil and Transport Corporation, which went into receivership Monday, has left 12,000 stockholders widely scattered throughout the country, wondering what is going to happen to them in the proposed organization of the company's affairs.

Solders, a corporation, whose stock was admitted as "speculative" had a more picturesque lot of shareholders. The list includes school teachers, clergymen, bootblacks, steamship captains, bell hops, club attendants, waiters, widows and children. Their average holdings are small, the stock representing an investment in which they put their savings.

Most of them bought in the spring and summer of 1920, when the company was making $1,000,000 on its oil sales and the stock was selling on the New York market at $6.25 and $7 a share. The par is $10. "It's sure to go to $15," was the cry that fetched the lambs. Yesterday the stock sold at $1.25 a share.

The par value of the shares now outstanding is $25,707,500.

No Dividends Ever Paid.

Since the organization of the company, in 1917, the stock has never paid a dividend, nor have the stockholders ever held a meeting. The annual meetings have been transacted by three trustees, and no question of financial management has ever been subjected to a referendum of the stockholders at large. So far as is known, however, yesterday the stockholders have no committee to look out for their interests under the present receivership other than the voting trust.

The Voting Trust consists of Mortimer M. Buckner, president of the New York Trust Co.; James T. Monahan, vice president of the Metropolitan Trust Co., and Michael J. Murphy, former vice president and treasurer of A. B. Leach & Co., who financed the organization of the Island.

Among the actions of the Voting Trust, supposedly acting for the stockholders, were the following:

1. Approval of a salary of $50,000 a year for Arthur J. Stevens, president of the Island, and a bonus of $60,000 to him in recognition of his services. Stevens is on the board of other corporations representing Leach interests, for which he draws a large salary.

2. Approval of an issue of $3,200,500 of additional stock last December at a time when the stock was selling at $8 a share. Immediately after the issue the stock dropped in less than a month to $1.50 a share. Of the extra issue, $100,000 was given to Stevens in payment of the $60,000 bonus. About $1,500,000 was transferred to A. B. Leach in payment for services.

3. Approval of the policy of no dividends to stockholders out of the $7,000,000 earnings of 1920. The board of the company voted to retain the $4,000,000 of net earnings which Leach & Co. raised the initial funds for developing the company's property.

Two Trustees Sign Request.

Inquiry into the application of the voting trustees for the additional stock issue disclosed that it was signed only by Buckner and Monahan. Murphy resigned as vice president last December, although retaining his trusteeship, and John Alvin Young, another vice president, got out last June. Young is now a vice president of the Tidewater Oil Co.

Officers of the company admitted that there has been a sharp division, both in the voting trust and in the direction of the company, over the policy toward the stockholders.

NEW WITNESS FOR ARBUCKLE

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Dr. William Oppen, first witness for the prosecution in the Roscoe Arubucke trial, testified yesterday afternoon that a rupture of the bladder which caused the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, after a party in Arubucke's hotel suite, might have been due to the application of external force. The film comedian is being tried for the third time on manslaughter charges growing out of her death.

A new witness considered likely to offer important defense testimony was promised when Arubucke's counsel announced in its opening statement that Miss Anna Dolan of San Francisco would testify that she had the room next to Arubucke's suite and overheard part of what happened at the party.

LECTURES ON PROPER LIGHTING
The correct methods of lighting can increase production, decrease spoilage, lower costs and aid in accident prevention in industrial plants is to be demonstrated at the Planters Hotel for three days beginning this afternoon, by lecturers from the Edison Lamp Works of the General Electric Co., of Harrison, N. J., working under the auspices of the Wesco Supply Co. of this city.

The demonstrations, which are open to anyone, will be held at 2 and 8 p. m. each day. Show window and interior lighting in retail stores will be taken up the last day of the demonstration.

No Flood Delays on the Barge Line

MISSISSIPPI-WARRIOR SERVICE,
Office of Federal Manager,
New Orleans, 9:00 A. M.,
March 21st, 1922

To the Shipping Public:

From some unaccountable source, rumors are being spread that the service of the Government Barge Line is being delayed and interrupted by the existing floods.

There is no truth in this report. The Barge Line receives and discharges its freight over floating terminals which are equally available at flood stage and at low water.

The most recent tow southbound left St. Louis Wednesday, March 15, the wireless report from this towboat shows it at this hour to be at St. Joseph, Louisiana, three hundred and ten miles above New Orleans, and due to arrive in New Orleans within the next twenty-four hours.

Flood waters are no handicap to the Barge Line's operations.

The only anxiety which they can cause is when they threaten its management through joint service by interrupting the operations of its railroad connections behind the protection of the levees. We have heard of no such public menace in any present reported flood stage.

The public has but to continue consigning its freight in care of the Mississippi-Warrior Service, to secure the customary regular movement.

Armstrong's Linoleum

for Every Floor in the House

Linoleum Rugs are handsome and save housework

RUGS of Armstrong's Linoleum are colorful and durable. They are waterproof and can be washed. A damp rag and a little soap will remove all traces of spilled grease.

Dust and dirt are removed instantly. The rug lies flat on the floor. Its weight keeps it where you want it. It is a protection as well as a decoration to the floor.

Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs are specially suitable for use in bedrooms, kitchens, hallways, nurseries, and dining-rooms.

These rugs can be supplied in four sizes up to 9x12 feet. They are made in a pleasing choice of beautiful printed patterns, also an inlaid design, the colors running through to the back.

Any good furniture or department store can show you Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs. They are delivered in substantial pasteboard containers with the edges and corners protected from injury.

To be sure you are getting the genuine Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs, look for the burlap back with the Circle "A" trademark.

All Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Our booklet, "Armstrong's Linoleum Rugs," shows colorplates of many distinctive designs. It will be sent free on request.

News of the Business World
By Wire to the Post-Dispatch

March 22,

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Weather conditions have been favorable to planting operations this week and good progress has been made in this area in preparing the ground for spring crops. Increased activity in the agricultural districts is helping business and retailers are buying more freely than they have in a long time.

Jobbers in nearly every line report a larger volume of business and say conditions are toward a well-sustained trade during the spring and summer, although most of the purchases now are for immediate needs. One notable feature of the dry goods trade has been the heavy purchases of jobbers from surrounding cities in need of goods for prompt shipment, who came here for their supplies rather than wait for stocks from the East.

Retail trade still is affected somewhat by in-between-season conditions. Clothing and ready-to-wear goods are moving slowly. The best sales are in linens and household furniture.

General financial conditions show a marked improvement in this region. Money is easier than at any time for years, although there is a good demand for new loans. Deposits are increasing steadily and most of the local banks have paid off their rediscouts at the Reserve Bank. There is an active demand for high-class securities.

SECOND "BUYERS' WEEK."

CHICAGO.—Winter weather has made the number of merchants gathering here for the second spring "buyers' week" somewhat disappointed, but the Chicago Association of Commerce expects a better response to its 41,000 invitations when the first warm days arrive. The early arrivals, so far, have not done much buying. They have been passing their time studying the big retail stores and window displays. The stores tried to do their best to offer the new goods for the arrival of spring and started their heavy Easter and spring advertising campaigns simultaneously. Ready-to-wear goods head the list of advertised articles, but piece goods, furniture, house furnishings and garden tools are featured prominently.

Jobbers and wholesalers are greatly encouraged by the number of small orders coming in. Road business is showing more signs of life each day and salesmen are returning with smiles on their faces and orders in their books. The small retail orders are coming easier in all parts of the Mississippi valley and the feeling among the merchants everywhere is better.

PREPARES FOR CELEBRATION.

PHILADELPHIA.—Philadelphia now is looking forward to a period of great activity in preparing for the Sesquicentennial Exposition. A site has been selected along the Schuylkill River and work of permanent buildings along the parkway leading to this site will be hurried.

Throughout Pennsylvania building projects are progressing in various cities will involve the expenditure of more than $200,000,000 this year.

Outside this city considerable factory and industrial plant construction is being undertaken.

The wool market is active and firm and textile mills are well engaged on orders which will keep them running for some time.

BUSINESS TOPICS.

MINNEAPOLIS.—Credit men from the Northwest territory declare the financial situation in this district is improving rapidly. They say fewer business failures are to be expected and achieved with the marketing of this year's crop.

BOSTON.—The cost of living in Boston has declined definitely since Jan. 1, according to the Commission on National Prices. Food in the last two months has dropped 3 per cent in price and clothing is about 4 per cent cheaper now than in January.

WOOL.

LONDON.—There has been active bidding at the wool auction sales here this week by both home and continental buyers, with greasy cross-bred varieties in special demand.

AUTOS.

DETROIT, Mich.—Many close observers here believe that the increase in price of $100 on the Chalmers open cars is the first of a series of which will be put into effect by automobile manufacturers here.

LUMBER.

Bogalusa, La.—The Great Southern Lumber Co. and the Conservation Department of Louisiana are co-operating in the establishment here of a forest nursery. It is hoped to produce 1,500,000 seedlings for replanting from the long leaf pine seed obtained.

JEWELRY.

NEW YORK.—Diamond cutting has been resumed in the jeweler's trade after being discontinued for more than a year. The demand for American cut diamonds has improved of late and is taken to indicate a decided betterment in the jewelry trade.

COAL.

NEWCASTLE, England.—There has been increased activity in the coal market with hardening prices. This is especially noticeable in coal for export.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa.—During the period of depression many coke independents increased facilities for handling and loading coal and, for this reason, it is believed the coal capacity of the Connellsville district is greater at any time during the war. The district is unionized and in the event of a miners' strike production is expected to jump above the war-time level.

STEEL.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—As a rule it is difficult to raise steel prices unless the country's production is on a basis of 80 to 85 per cent of capacity, but recent advances are being maintained on a smaller output. Bars, plates and shapes are quoted all the way from $1.40 to $1.60, with the sales reported at the higher figure and none below the lower for several days. The average is advancing.

BERLIN, March 22.—A 21 per cent price increase is announced by the potash syndicate because of increased cost of production and transportation. The increase has been approved by the Imperial Potash Council.BANK BUILDING FOR EIGHTEENTH AND OLIVESt. Louis National and Union Station Trust Expect to Build
After Street Decision.

A six or seven story bank and office building is being planned for the southwest corner of Olive and Eighteenth streets as the location of the proposed St. Louis National Bank and also for the Union Station Trust Co., officers of which have applied for a charter for the new national bank.

Exact size and design of the bank building will not be determined until the projected widening of Olive street is settled. R. R. Karraker, cashier of the Union Station Trust Co., which bought the 150 by 109 foot site a year ago, said today. Work on the building will begin soon after the street widening proposal is decided definitely.

Proposed Capitalization.

Until the new building is erected, the St. Louis National Bank will be housed with the trust company in the latter's quarters in the Union Station building. The national bank, which will have a capital of $200,000 and a surplus of $25,000, the same as the trust company, will handle commercial banking only, while the trust company will devote its attention to real estate, insurance and the bond business.

New Bank's Personnel.

Organization of the national bank is expected to be completed about June. Its officers will be the same as those making up the personnel of the trust company. Thomas N. Karraker will be president of both institutions; R. R. Karraker, cashier, and H. J. Litzelde of the Union Bros. and Fred Wehmiller of the Barry-Wehmiller Machinery Co., vice presidents.

The board of directors will include these men and Joseph V. Martin of Martin-Martin, dealers in men's furnishings; Jacob Friedman of the Friedman Loan and Mercantile Co.; Grover C. Hilboldt of the Carlton Dry Goods Co., and Barney W. Franenthal, general traffic agent for the United Railways.

growing inquiry for all iron and steel products, but the actual orders booked by the Scotch mills have not shown a proportionate increase. There has been renewed inquiry for black sheets and corrugated iron from India, Japan and Argentina.

SUGAR BEETS.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Northern Minnesota farmers have contracted to cultivate 2500 acres of sugar beets near Fisher and additional large increases will be grown in the Red River Valley. Beet growers last year realized as high as $40 an acre from their crops.

OIL.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The strong demand for Texas gasoline from France is said to have been brought about by the exhaustion of the French Government stocks, which the price was maintained at an artificial level and by more favorable rates of exchange. Texas refiners have been able to obtain better prices from exporters than from buyers supplying domestic demand.

CLOTHING.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Merchants dealing in men's clothing make contradictory reports as to business, but, on the whole, declare conditions are improving in the moderate-priced lines. Demand for women's wear is abnormal except in districts where labor troubles have curtailed buying power.

SHOES.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Shoe manufacturers report a good demand for rubber and leather shoes in a wide range of styles. Retailers' stocks are very low and buying has been resumed in increased quantities.

TAILORED.

LONDON.—The tailoring market has been quiet. At recent auctions a considerable part of the product was withdrawn, but afterward sales were made at 12 cents under the prices quoted at the auction.

New Factors for Shoe Company.

The McElroy-Sloan Shoe Co. will open two new factories at Lynchburg, Va., in July. It was announced at the company's annual banquet last night at Hotel Statler. Opening of these factories will increase the company's daily output to 30,000 pairs of shoes. About 200 salesmen and officials of the firm attended the banquet.

THE James Tait Black memorial prize, awarded annually in England for the best English novel of the year, has been awarded to D. H. Lawrence for "The Lost Girl."

IN an article on Miss Kaye-Smith, whose work is discussed on this page by Public Librarian Bostwick, Montgomery Belgian, dwelling upon the value of Miss Kaye-Smith as the virile woman novelist, maintains that "no other Englishwoman can write of men as vividly as she does. This gift has enabled her to portray a woman in whom the masculine element is abnormal, yet who nevertheless is fundamentally feminine." Miss Kaye-Smith going to function as a species of W. L. George reversed "with a vengeance."

F ANNIE HURST has a genius for inventing titles. Her new book is named "The Vertical City." What is it? New York, of course—the New York of the deep stone canyons, walled by mountains of rock, cement and steel, ascending to vague and dizzying heights. New York of mountainous buildings, towering higher than the monoliths of pyramids and obelisks of those people that engraved its own memory in gigantic columns and plasters. New York that draws its population from the world and that houses a small nation rushing, working, scheming, loving, hating, daring—a jumbled mass of terrible force, plunging onward—for what?

A LETTER FROM JOHN Edwin Arlington Robinson: "To challenge him is ridiculous, to scale him difficult. No contemporary English poet has his insight into character, his intellectual beauty, his exquisite sense of form."

A BOUT CHILDREN'S READING: "From my seat in a grandmother's chair, I am going to give some advice to young parents," says Mrs. Flavia Confield, author of the famous "Kidnapped Campers" series (Harper's). "Don't recommend a book or books too strongly to your children. My experience has taught me the un wisdom and futility of this. For instance, when I had young children, good books were left within their reach, but never urged upon them, and my 14-year-old boy gurgled over 'Richie' and fed on 'Scott and Cooper' to his heart's content, and my 10-year-old girl read 'Little Women' and Grimm's Fairy Tales by the hour, all of these selected by themselves from a large assortment. When parents insist that their children read certain books, they may be obedient and read them, but unwillingly and without enjoyment.

A CERTAIN vague clings to American humor, says Stephen Leacock in an article in the March issue of Harper's Magazine. "Ever since the spacious days of Artemus Ward and Mark Twain it has enjoyed an extraordinary reputation," he writes, "and this not only on our own continent, but in England." Then, England again attacks which are usually made upon her sense of humor, he adds: "It was in a sense the English who 'discovered' Mark Twain; I mean it was they who first clearly recognized him as a man of letters." Mr. Hutchinson gave up medicine for journalism. In this profession he rose rapidly, becoming in 1912 editor of the Daily Graphic.

T HE Religious Book Week Committee has sent to magazines and newspapers articles written for the week's publicity by prominent writers and speakers. The following paragraphs open the article by Dr. Dwight Bradley, pastor of the Congregational Church in Webster Groves, Mo., and will be read by thousands of men and women: "There is an obvious hiatus be-remainder of this tale. I could wish we could bring ourselves to forgive, 'pillow-ettes,' and blink both eyes hard at that monstrosity which she describes as 'curled up there like a little porcupine.' Miss Hurst's mistake. We know positively there ain't no such animal.

We're not for that harrowing fish story which forms the penultimate number in the collection: we should end with a recommendation of the book.

TWO SATIRISTS: "POEMS AND PORTRAITS," by Don Marquis (Doubleday, Page & Co.)

"ORIENTATIONS OF HO-HEN," by T. K. Hedrick (The Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

Structurally, the stories leave nothing to be desired. First in mind and they are a trifle crude, it must be confessed. Witness the first of them, in which the heroine is dismayed by that no longer uncommon instrument, the deadly traffic, which Miss Zoa Akins was the unwilling victim to apply, in "Declasse." It appears to be a merciful method, and quite tidy, since in "The Walls in Beauty," as well as in "Declasse," the victim is spared any untidy disarray of her ex-clothing, and hardly shows a scratch when the thing is over.

WIFE WINS SUIT AGAINST AUTHOR OF "SPOON RIVER".
Edgar Lee Masters Ordered to Pay $2000 Back Alimony and $300 a Month Maintenance.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 22.—Poetry published years ago by Edgar Lee Masters, author of "Spoon River Anthology," was cited as the basis for court action here yesterday, wherein Mrs. Helen Jenkins Masters obtained a decree of separate maintenance in W. Walker's court. Judge Irvin Rayner's court. Mrs. Masters told the Judge that the poet deserted her in 1918, published "The Great Valley," and has since been unable to support her and their two daughters. She said that while he was traveling in Egypt and Europe, collecting material for his "Anthology," Masters was heralded throughout the English-speaking world as a new voice in contemporary poetry.

To Mrs. Masters also was awarded

$2000 back alimony and $300 a month alimony and support for the two daughters. She said that while he was traveling in Egypt and Europe, collecting material for his "Anthology," Masters was heralded throughout the English-speaking world as a new voice in contemporary poetry.

Masters' yearly income was said to be more than $12,000, according to Mrs. Masters. Her attorney, Francis

U. S. SUPREME UPHOLDING
TO CURB R

Decision Written by
Was Justified in
Because of S

Post-Dispatch Bureau
No. 28 Wyatt Building
WASHINGTON, March 22—A general view of the United States Supreme Court that will later be permitted in the exercise of its police powers is set forth in a significant opinion of the court, upholding the validity of New York State rent laws. The opinion was written by Justice Clarke. Justices McKenna, Vanter and McReynolds form a dissenting minority, but did not give the reasons for their dissent. With the omission of some more technical portions of the following:

The essential question presented is the constitutionality of the emergency housing laws of the State of New York as passed by the Governor Sept. 22, 1920.

"By the acts a number of changes were made in the substantive and a number of amendments to the remedial statutes of the State for the purpose of securing to tenants possession of dwellings previously occupied by dwelling proprietors described as being in the legal custody in possession until November 1, 1920, the payment or setting aside of a reasonable sum to be determined by the court for the purpose of enabling the building of dwellings by persons under specified conditions their exemption from local taxes."

Allegation in One Case. Justice Clarke here gives the opinion in one of the cases up for decision:

"That the described apartment was leased to the defendant from Sept. 1, 1915, to Oct. 1, 1920, at the monthly rental of $1450 per annum in equal monthly installments in advance; that while in possession the defendant executed a new lease for two years, beginning on the expiration of the former one, at an increased rent to $2140, and that he failed to pay the installments on Oct. 1, 1920. Judgment for month's rent is prayed for."

The defendant admits the terms of the leases, but avers the second one was signed under coercion and duress of threat of eviction, and that the rent stipulated is "unjust, unreasonable and oppressive." He offers to pay the amount of rent as was paid preceding month, and asserts right to continue in possession for the emergency acts.

The State counters the decision, upholding the validity of the emergency housing laws, which was called into question in the foregoing case.

Details of Second Case. In the second of the two cases, decided upon jointly by the Supreme Court, the allegation is outlined by Justice Clarke in his opinion follows:

"That the defendant is a lessee over after the expiration of his lease; that he refuses to give up possession as he stipulates to do, and that he has the right to retain possession under the emergency housing laws, suspend the right of action and possession except under the conditions, which are not clearly defined."

Certain chapters of the law, Justice Clarke continues, are not sustained in the case, and the court has sustained them as valid. In terms, Justice Clarke, "the acts involving the emergency statutes and decisions they were by the Legislature to protect the health, morality, and peace of the people of the State are obviously a resort to the public welfare power to promote the welfare. They are a consistent and united group of acts essential to implement their professed purpose."

Warrant for Legislation. The warrant for this legislation is a delegation of power by the Legislature to the police power which is to be exercised on the part of the Legislature that there existed an emergency, caused by an inundation of dwelling houses and buildings, so grave that it constitutes a menace to the health, safety, comfort, and even to the welfare of a large part of the people.

That such an emergency really existed, would sustain the law, otherwise valid, for the purpose of which it cannot be doubted, for the public welfare suffer in respects which are primary and undisputed, in the most unusual basis and manner, for exercise of that power.

"In the enactment of the law, the Legislature of New York did not, on the knowledge which members had of the existence of the emergency, two years before the law was enacted, the Governor of the State appointed a reconstruction commission. At the same time the Legislature appointed a committee in the Legislature to investigate and report on the housing conditions in the State, and a few months later a State Housing Committee was appointed.

PRICE OF SYMPHONY IS CALLED EXORBITANT

Kansas City Manager Says Other Organizations Offer Better Terms Than St. Louis.

to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 22.—The Kansas City Symphony Orchestra has refused to re-enter the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on the old financial basis, because Anna Miller says the price is exorbitant.

The St. Louis organization is giving concerts at Mexico and Columbia, Mo., for less than half the money paid the organization by the Kansas City Symphony Orchestra Association. It has refused to make any concessions to Kansas City, although it raised fare for all the members in charge in the Kansas City account, the organization stopping on two of its trips to give concerts en route. In order that Kansas City might draw patronage from Missouri cities it was distinctly laid in the original contract that no concert would be given in Kansas City territory, she says.

In negotiations made by Miss Miller, manager of the Kansas City Symphony Orchestra Association, with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor, and with the Cincinnati Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy, as well as with the St. Louis orchestra, Emil Oberholzer, conductor, better terms were agreed than with the St. Louis organization.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra has brought distinguished soloists to Kansas City during the last season. But while the orchestra was generally liked, patrons have complained of the lack of noted artists in its concerts.

Says Financial Arrangement Was Thought Equitable.
George D. Markham, a vice president of the Symphony Society, said in a reading of the Post-Dispatch that the society would not exceedingly if the neighborhood arrangement for concerts in Kansas City was discontinued.

"We made what we felt was an equitable financial arrangement," he said, "whereby the Kansas City people paid for the traveling expenses of the orchestra to Kansas City and the salary of the men for two days there. The salaries for the remainder of the week, usually spent in rehearsals for the Kansas City concerts, came from the St. Louis organization.

"As to terms offered by other orchestras, we have to be shown any of the other orchestras named will their full orchestra and stated terms thus creating a stalemate for a price lower than asked by the St. Louis orchestra. Possibly they would fit in Kansas City concerts at a lower price when they are on tour with reduced personnel."

The bust is the work of Frederick Blaschke, Hungarian sculptor, and is a duplicate of the one which is in the lobby of the Post-Dispatch Building.

KIEL SUPPORTS PRESENT
TAX RATE FOR SCHOOLS

Mayor Advocates Retention of 85-Cent Assessment—Board Reports Receiving Indorsements.

Mayor Kiel addressed two meetings last night in support of the proposal, which will be voted on next Tuesday to maintain the school tax at the present rate of $5 cents on the $100 valuation. He spoke at a Boy Scout rally at 1301 Allen avenue, and at a meeting at the Budget School, 5319 Lansdowne avenue. Tonight he will make an address at the Chouteau School.

Members of the Board of Education have been making frequent addresses before various associations of parents and others, in support of the proposal, which school officials have declared must be passed if the schools' efficiency is to be maintained. Every day, it is said, reports are received of the endorsement of the proposal by various organizations. The St. Louis League was one organization taking such action recently.

Women Voters Plan Parade.

The St. Louis League of Women Voters is planning an automobile parade to be held Tuesday to get out the vote. There are three gathering places—Soldan, Central and Cleveland high schools, and the units behind them will form at 10 a. m. behind trucks carrying the high school bands. The Soldan unit probably will go east on Lindell boulevard and the other groups will move on Grand avenue, all meeting at Grand avenue and Pine street.

One of the main streets will be followed eastwardly, the parade traversing a number of downtown streets, ending in front of the Federal Building, where speeches will be made. Mayor Kiel and President Tobin of the Board of Education are expected to be in the parade. Organizations and individuals are invited to join the parade at any of the three centers. They can decorate their vehicles to suit themselves and carry organization banners. The League of Women Voters will supply school tax banners.

Where to Get Information.

Persons desiring more information about the parade may telephone the League of Women Voters, Olive 3147, or call at the office in the Century Building.

There is a balance of $35.11 in the fund for school buildings of the Board of Education, it has been announced. The sum of $2,924,108.12 was expended from this fund since Jan. 26, 1917, for the erection of eight new schools, reconstruction of other buildings, school equipment and the expenses of the building department. One important object for seeking the maintenance of the present tax rate is that of building more new schools, to catch up with requirements.

SYMPHONY PLEASES TWO LARGE AUDIENCES AT COLUMBIA, MO.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLUMBIA, Mo., March 22.—Two large audiences heard the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in concerts yesterday afternoon and last night in the university auditorium.

The afternoon program was a popular "children's" program, and was attended by a large number of school children and young women from Columbia and Stephens Colleges. To the children, such numbers as "Antar's Dance," "The Three Bears of the Mountain King," "Meditations from 'Thais'" and "March of the Little Lead Soldiers" were delights.

Director Ganz talked to a group of youngsters after the program and asked them how they liked it.

The evening audience included all of Columbia's instructors in music and scores of finished musicians, some of whom have studied under European masters. The overture to "Die Freiheit," by Weber, was enthusiastically received.

Browns, Like Cardinals, Are Bending Every Effort to Develop One More Pitcher

Rival St. Louis Managers, Working Along Different Lines, Hope to Bring Out One More "Regular," Without Whom Neither Can Hope to Land a Pennant This Season.

By J. Roy Stockton,

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MOBILE, Ala., March 22.—Shifting from the camp of the Cardinals to that of the Browns is like journeying into a foreign country, so different are the training methods in St. Louis' two major league baseball camps. And yet, despite the wide divergence between the methods employed by Branch Rickey of the National Leaguers and Lee Fohl of Alabamians, the results apparently are about the same. And it may be said, also, that the same problems confront the two managers and, therefore, the two teams.

In each camp there is a new pitcher on whose 1922 performance the fate of the team depends. In the case of the Cardinals it is hoped that, Clyde Barfoot, right-hand "screw" ball expert, will deliver winning wares to such an extent that the staff which carried the team to third place last year will be able to claim two notches and give St. Louis a pennant.

In the case of the Browns the question mark and hope is cast around the doings of a new pitcher. In the case of the American Leaguers the beacon light of hope is Dave Danforth, a left-hand twirler. In each case the hurler had a great record in the minors, last year, and around the prospects of each there are many potential stumbling blocks.

Lucky Break for Cards. Barfoot has been pitching for six years and last year had such a splendid record that the Cardinals tried to buy him. Houston bid out for a large sum—too much, in the opinion of the Cardinals' money-changers—and luck would have it the pitcher was assigned to the Rickey through the draft. The cost is $2500. Danforth's record in fast company before last year was the best in his record, and so good was his record that more than half a dozen players figured in the trade the Browns arranged with Columbus.

In the case of Barfoot it is as gamble as to whether his fine showing of last year means anything. His work against the Indians and Yankees this spring gives grounds for hope that he will be able to take a regular place on the Cardinals' staff.

Danforth arrived late at the spring camp of the Browns and of course has not been able to show in this short time whether he will fill the niche the Browns hope is reserved for him.

Although Lee Fohl and other members of the Browns assert that the rumors don't mean anything, there also is another question mark of some proportion in Danforth's case. That is the frequently repeated statement coming from major and minor leagues, scouts and managers that Danforth has a half-baked motion and some pitching tricks that will not "get by" in the majors.

Danforth Will Not Be Handicapped by Illegal Delivery, Manager Fohl Asserts

"How about Danforth? Will he be able to use the motion and stuff that made him the pick of the minors last year?" was the question put to Fohl last night.

"I've heard that a dozen times," replied the Browns' leader, "and I want to tell you it is ridiculous. If a pitcher has a motion that is illegal some umpire will call him for it and the motion will be discontinued. It is not a balk until an umpire calls it a balk."

"Well, don't you think it might be a pitcher to have a motion make a balk several times?" was asked.

"Certainly not. If his motion were to be called a balk he would change his motion until he had come with the law. And it won't be a balk till it's called a balk," Fohl repeated.

"Does Danforth's doctor's ball in any illegal way?" Is there any danger of umpires bothering him in that way?"

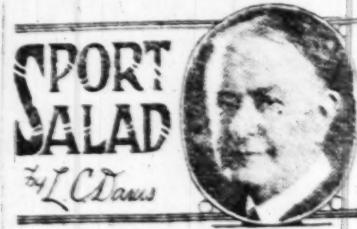

"I don't see any chance of that," Fohl replied. "There are some wise crackers in the minor leagues. If Danforth had used anything illegal he would have been called for a long time. I don't know what he would do in the long run, but out of the possible as yet, it's too early to tell what any of my pitchers are going to do with two markers dividing the pitching assignment until such time as the Browns' camp, just as it is in the sent the route."

Neither Browns Nor Cardinals Have Had Much Luck With This Season's Rookies

The Browns, like the Cardinals, have no youngsters of great promise. Eddie Meine, the St. Louis boy, is drawing great praise for his young career and the belief is that he will carry as a utility pitcher. He plans to attend the University of Illinois in the fall and is expected to have his tissues when the pitcher is posted and in command.

Durst's Hitting in Doubt. Durst is a great fielder, but his hitting is highly uncertain, despite the great amount of publicity given to that feature of his work this spring. When he can get a toe-hold on the plate, hitting practice, for instance, he warms the fences, but he is expected to have his tissues when the pitcher is posted and in command.

Browns Face Mobile Today. Yesterday he relieved Jacobson in center field in the game with Spring Hill College, which the Browns won, 2 to 1, and struck out twice against BALLYARD RIFPLINGS.

"WHAT makes the rookie look SO GRAY?"
Said Rooter-on-Parade.
"He made a four-base hit today,"
The Center Fielder said.
"He seems to be a cocky youth,"
Said Rooter-on-Parade.
"He thinks he is a second Ruth,"
The Center Fielder said.
"For he's feeling pretty cheety since he landed on the pill." The regulars go to Galveston and the second team to Houston. On March 22 the Cardinals and Athletics will play a single game here and then the Buckeyes will say good-bye to at least another year.

Paying high tribute to the Cardinals as players and men, the local Rotary Club yesterday entertained the boys at luncheon and by formal resolution, asked them to make this city their permanent training quarters. A wire was received from H. J. Lutcher Stark, who, in every way, has the aristocracy of the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket Club. Eighteen matches were run off without an overturn.

As a result of yesterday's progress, Mrs. Jessup has moved out of her home in Orange and today will oppose Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston who also has reached the fourth round in singles.

Mrs. Molla Elsworth Mallory of New York, who was the title holder in 1920, is one of the 13 names placed in the draw. She and Mrs. L. G. Morris of New York form a pair and are one of the nine doubles teams still in the running.

Mixed doubles matches, scheduled to start at 10:15 o'clock, will be made by the appearance of William T. Tilman II of Philadelphia, the world's champion, playing in his first tournament since last fall. He will team with Mrs. Mallory in an attempt to repeat their 1921 victory in the same event.

Mrs. Mallory was a bit less keen than usual in her opening matches with two local players yesterday. She played at the base line throughout her doubles contest.

Lavan On Lineup. Lavan will not play against the Exporters today and may not again break into service for several days. He is below par physically, but not in serious condition. Leslie Mann also reported resting yesterday, trying to ward off an incipient case of flu.

Five pitchers will be with the squad in Beaumont today and all may get a chance to work. They are Barnes, Bentham, Reinhardt, North and Jess Hines. Either Adams or Topper will be the pitcher and Chas. Heathcote will break in the regular lineup for the first time this spring.

The Cards have a comprehensive exhibition schedule. In order beginning Saturday, they play at Galveston, Houston, with local teams of the Texas League, then with the Athletics at Galveston and Houston and then play at Beaumont, Orange, Baton Rouge, New Orleans, Shreveport, Little Rock, Memphis and Carthage, Ark. They battle the Milwaukee club in the Missouri stand and their only two-day stand is at New Orleans, where on April 1 and 2 they start the spring offensive again. Browns continuing it at home, April 3.

There is an outfielder playing in the sticks named Rymer. He ought to be a versatile guy.

It is said that Miller Huggins is accumulating gray hairs down South in Dixie. As his troubles have hardly started, it might be said that the Rabbit is getting prematurely gray.

Weatherwax High Gun in Shootout. Headline. There's a shot for the jockeys to shoot at.

See where a prominent sportsman in England got a wise in prison for defrauding bookmakers. Looks like he ought to be knighted for doing something that couldn't be done.

George Whitted is one up on Rube Marquard in the matter of wearing desirous uniforms. But the Rube ought to be the score, as he hasn't been to Philadelphia yet.

With the first team operating as above outlined, the Yannigans make Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City, Muskogee and Fort Smith. Roy Thomas, coach, will probably be in charge of this club with Joe Surden as his assistant.

Catcher Ellis Due in Camp.

Jack Fournier declares he is ready for the season to open. The Frenchman shows no sign of having lost his hitting eye and his fielding is improving daily. The new arrival, Milton Stock, is ready right now. Hornsby is only a step away. The absence of Almashoff will hurt, but Eddie is improving steadily and probably will report in a day or so.

Joe Ellis, the Texas University catcher is due in camp today or tomorrow. He is touted highly but will have no easy assignment in taking the third string job away from one.

Herbert Benninghoven. The latter can hit and field and has shown a strong and accurate arm, besides being much swifter than most pitchers. He is not good but must prove it before he is given the preference over Benninghoven.

Shocker and Davis are the "big bets" on the hill. Vangilder and Bayne are expected to arrive this year, as they gave promise of doing

last year after Joe Surden.

There will be five pitchers

availing themselves of the others' sins which is expected. But as for telling what they will do from their work this spring, it is impossible. Five games have been played, all with Mobile and all five have been won. But the opposition has not finished a project test. Longer and longer periods are being prescribed for the ground artists and from now on, there will be "competition" such that any of my pitchers are going to do what any of my pitchers are going to do.

That's the crux of the situation in as condition warrants a man being sent the route.

The Browns' camp, just as it is in the

sent the route.

The afternoon the Browns play

Mobile and a more satisfactory workout is expected. Bayne will be

WHEAT CLOSES HIGHER AFTER RECOVERING EARLY DECLINE

CHICAGO, March 22.—Wheat averaged lower in price today during the early transactions, but recovered after the opening. Buyers showed a considerable improvement in export demand, but were not favorable about any decided rise in values. Favorable was a factor in higher prices. The market closed showing substantial gains, with May, $1.18, was followed by a slight general rise in the market.

Subsequent offerings were absorbed by strong commissions, but buyers were not able to act on foreign account. The result was higher prices in the last half of the day.

Wheat was unquoted at 15¢ to 16¢ per bushel, with May, $1.18, to $1.19.

Corn was steady on the average. Shipping resistance to selling was rather stubborn.

After opening, corn was quoted as a bullion influence, but buyers were not able to act.

Persistent buying of the part of commended advances was the result.

Corn started at 3¢ to 4¢ to 4¢ up. May

ROUND UP OF WILD ELEPHANTS
ATTENDED BY PRINCE OF WALES

Picturesque Event Is Staged for Visitor During Tour of India.

 Correspondence of the Associated Press
 MYSORE, India, Feb. 10.—The elephant hunt witnessed here by the Prince of Wales was one of the most picturesque and exciting of the numerous events arranged for his entertainment while on his tour of India. He saw only the final stage of it but that was the most exciting part of the hunt.

Mounted on an elephant and accompanied by the Maharajah, the Prince was an interested spectator when 28 wild inhabitants of the jungle were rounded up and driven into an enclosure to be captured.

The herd was captured by the khedah system, the usual method followed in this part of the country. It involves relays of thousands of beaters, who force the herd selected for capture to follow a particular course, generally lying on the usual line of march, until the elephants are driven into an enclosure about 400 yards in diameter. There, surrounded by a 10-foot trench, the animals can be kept indefinitely. Fires are lighted on the outside to prevent them from climbing the trench, where they are tethered. The whole operation, from the time the herd is first sighted and tracked until it is finally impounded in the khedah, takes several weeks.

The wild herd of 28 included bulls and cows and four calves. The leader was a heavy tusker who gave fierce resistance to capture. Two of the animals had been captured before and were still wary.

NO one is in a better position to know how to wash silk, woolen, or fine cotton, than the manufacturers of these products. It is a matter of business to these manufacturers that the lovely fabrics and garments they make should receive careful laundering.

One careless washing, for instance, may ruin a silk blouse. A baby's woolen shirt or band will shrink or yellow almost beyond recognition in three careless washings.

When this happens, the manufacturers of the fabric or garment are held responsible by their customers.

For this reason, all of the manufacturers listed above felt that it was essential for them to work out the safest way to wash the materials and garments they make.

They had thorough washing tests made by the domestic science department of a famous university. Samples of silks, woolens, linens and fine cottons were laundered the average number of times. Careful records were kept and the washed samples compared, after each laundering, with samples of the material which had never been washed.

As a result, all of these manufacturers are recommending Lux to their customers. They know that Lux could not stand up under these severe tests unless it was absolutely pure and mild.

They say without reservation that Lux is safe—that if water alone won't harm a fabric or color, Lux can't.

Lux is sold everywhere. Get a package from your grocer or department store today. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Separate Homes for Some Couples Will Bring Bliss, Declares Cosmo Hamilton

Playwright and Author Believes in Marriage and in Divorce, Too—Would Have Trial Engagements.

By RUTH SNYDER.

"My husband and wife would only occupy separate homes. It would save the husband from being completely absorbed."

Cosmo Hamilton, playwright and author of so many clever matrimonial stories, read his own quoted words. His voice trailed into the questions. Then died. A cynical smile—a smile which if interpreted rightly might mean, "Oh, we'll do better things up there, make such a jolly mess of things"—played about his lips.

"Yes, I did say something like that," he acknowledged. "But—his voice quickening into explanation—"We can't treat people like sausages. What's true of one man or woman is not true of another. It is true for some people. People with nervous temperaments—quick and raw edges—would be happier if they had separate apartments, or if not separate apartments, separate rooms. But it is—I, that housing instinct."

He sat back in his man-sized chair and looked proudly around at his comfortable and roomy chamber. Before him was his desk with an uncompleted letter and some manuscript on it.

In his precise manner—everything about Cosmo Hamilton is precise and deliberate—he took his long cigarette holder from his mouth and lighted another cigarette from its still gleaming predecessor.

"However, I am a firm believer in marriage. And—what may seem paradoxical—I am a firm believer in divorce. But I believe we should say 'How to be happy THOUGH married—but 'How to be happy WHEN married.' We should do as they do in China. Not call in a doctor after someone has become ill. But call in a doctor before one is taken sick—to prevent the illness. 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.' Some apostle of marriage is needed. Some man or woman to advise. If a girl should come to me and say she is going to be married, I would turn to her and say, 'Don't! Don't do it!'

He paused. He waited for me to ask that the girl was probably going to live with him at the time.

"Why?" I questioned, obediently.

"Not because I don't believe in marriage. I do. But—and he held up five emphatic fingers with his palm turned to me—"I would say wait! Think it over! For instance, when my own daughter becomes older and comes to me with a man whom she wants to marry, I shall invite him to the house and carefully, in a most subtle way, draw him out. I shall taunt him continually, goad him into showing his true self."

"I believe every man and woman should have their own imagination—or perhaps written—guide book to marriage. For instance, you have often seen some married people quarreling—irritated about some trifles. Well! just that down in your guide book. Learn what it is that irritates and make up your mind that you will try to avoid it when you are married. Don't wait until you are married or engaged to do this. That's the mark in life."

"Engaged?" He inhaled over the word. "What do you mean by engaged? A girl becomes engaged—not because she is in love with the man. He is about to marry—but because Mary Jones does it. It is a habit. I believe in trial engagements—engagements in which the two people come together to study each other—to find out if they are suited. And there should be some person, some man or woman, to guide them—to help them in finding themselves. And this person's work should not stop after they are married. The time will come when some difficulty will arise. You will ask, 'Well, how are you getting along?' and the girl will answer, 'Oh, so and so irritates my husband and such and such a thing causes friction.' Then the building project should step in and say 'Humor—that is the magic word. To be able to face your difficulties and not take things too seriously.'

Another cigarette followed the way of the first.

"Yes," I gently urged, "you said you were just as firm a believer in divorce."

"I am," he emphatically reiterated.

"To me there is nothing more foolish under the sun than the saying, 'If you make your bed you have got to lie on it.' No rather I would say, if you make your bed and find it is not suitable, get out and make yourself another bed."

He smiled a whimsical smile.

"Do you know that half of the divorce evil is due to your American barbers? The American men don't shave themselves. That is why there are so many barbers. If the man comes down to breakfast unshaven and in an unkempt condition, how can he expect to have a happy home? Neatness is the first essential to married life. Romance has to be cherished in married life, else it is a dismal failure. And the girl who prides herself on her looks and puts her lips into a Cupid's bow before marriage must not relax afterward."

"But, please," he pleaded in conclusion, smoothing his own closely trimmed mustache (which receives his own careful attention, not the barbers')—please do not quote me as against marriage. Because I am a firm believer in it. It is a serious business. But I do say that for temperamental men and women it is better to have separate apartments.

Then, when they do see each other, there will be no jarring, no friction."

BUNS

ONE cup flour, one-half cup sugar, salt, yeast cake, two tablespoons lard, two well-beaten eggs, two cups boiling water. Over the flour, sugar and salt and lard pour the well-beaten eggs and soaked yeast cake. Mix well with flour, using a spoon; do not mix with the hands. Set aside to rise. When wanted, make into little balls and put in greased tins, or close together like biscuits in a dripping pan, to raise a couple of hours before meal time; when light, bake in a quick oven. Put the remaining batter in a cool place, pushing it down every day. The batter is good until the very last and will keep some time.

UNCOMMON SENSE

YOU CAN'T FALL UP.

By JOHN BLAKE.

SOME kind of a letting go precedes a fall. People are sometimes kicked upstairs, but they never fall upstairs. The man who is too lazy to climb, or even too lazy to hold on, is the man who drops. But he never drops up.

All of the places that are to be coveted in life are farther up the road than the particular part of it that the average man is traveling. He will never reach any of them by letting go and falling.

If your work is burdensome and you get so you hate it, you can drop it and fall into other work. But that work is always going to be below you instead of above you.

If you look about you, you will see people continually slacking up and losing their holds and falling. But none of them ever get into any easier situations by the drop.

From the time life first came up out of the sea, life has been continuous effort. The first men who were energetic and capable managed to keep alive, and gradually to progress.

The men that let go slumped back into uselessness.

Today none of us are so low that we cannot fall if we cease our efforts to climb. It is impossible even to remain exactly in the same place.

And nobody, however gifted, can get into a better place by relaxing all effort and trusting to the forces of nature to carry him on up.

The current of progress that has advanced steadily is continually retarded by individuals who are going back to the place they started. It is creditable to humanity that the current continues upward in spite of them.

There comes to everyone, particularly in the spring, an impulse to go and see what happens.

It is a dangerous impulse to heed. The only thing that can happen is a fall, and falls are always disastrous.

You can recover from them, it is true, and climb back to where you started, but that involves a loss of time which, if expended wisely, would have carried you far along toward the goal you have set for yourself.

Your only hope is to hold your gains and to keep on trying for more. Cease trying and you will fall—but you won't fall up.

FOR BUSINESS WOMEN

By W. A. McKeever

A CLUB of young employed women of a certain well known little city has asked me for suggestions of projects or achievements as the gear of their united effort. Their collective name is "The Triangular Club," derived from the fact of its threefold composition:

Business young women, school teachers and household assistants.

In responding I shall try to add myself to the three people who come together to study each other—to find out if they are suited. And there should be some person, some man or woman, to guide them—to help them in finding themselves. And this person's work should not stop after they are married. The time will come when some difficulty will arise.

"You will ask, 'Well, how are you getting along?' and the girl will answer, 'Oh, so and so irritates my husband and such and such a thing causes friction.' Then the building project should step in and say 'Humor—that is the magic word. To be able to face your difficulties and not take things too seriously.'

Young business women, or those who work with their heads.

School teachers, or those who work with their hearts.

Household assistants, or those who work with their hands.

Then as a matter of work for this interesting club of young women, let me suggest another kind of triangular symbolism—to find a project or a purpose that will unite the efforts of the head, the heart, and hands all collectively and individually.

The head, to think the heart to love the hand, to do—that is a further interpretation of the symbolism involved within the possible achievements of the Triangle Club. Take up a list of suggested projects as given below, select the one which seems most feasible, which appeals most to the heart, and rally to its support.

You may be interested in knowing that the young women's clubs are everywhere attempting something that is unselfish. However, some of your members will be timid; some will be dubious. Carefully held publicity will spur these to action.

All the girls in the community should learn the value of public service as a promoter of the cause of the young. I long ago found that the press honestly desires to give assistance to every worthy purpose of human betterment. And so I urge every "Triangle Club" to study the press as well as the project. Learn how to prepare your story and to use the methods of the local public school.

Here are some undertakings which have been successfully promoted by the young women's business clubs:

To direct systematically the placing of homeless little girls in responsible families.

To persuade young schools girls of wavering disposition and irresponsible home influence to remain in school.

To keep watch over all young girls whose morals are in jeopardy and to throw safeguards around them.

To act as a parole sponsor for certain classes of young first-offenders delinquent girls and to seek to restore these to normal conditions.

To work for ordinances and police measures intended to guard the young, especially girls, against evil influences.

To erect or secure a building for the club, with apartments for meetings, public receptions, hospital service of members and social service.

To conduct annually a sort of institute of lectures and exhibits intended to educate the public in behalf of the best standard measures for defense and welfare of girls.

To lead and inspire the public locally in the support of big projects of democracy and of religious work and worship, and to cooperate in hearty good-will with all other agencies seeking these purposes.

MOLDED SALMON

ONE can salmon, one tablespoon flour, dash red pepper, one egg yolk, three-quarters cup milk, one-quarter cup vinegar, half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon gelatin, one teaspoon mustard, two tablespoons melted butter. Mix well and boil, then dressing out of the flour, egg, mustard, milk, pepper, vinegar, then butter and salt. Soak gelatin, then add to dressing when it is done (cook in double boiler), then add salmon. Pour into mold. Serve with cucumber sauce. Cucumber sauce: One cup heavy cream, one-quarter teaspoon of salt, few grains red pepper, one chopped cucumber, three tablespoons vinegar. Beat cream stiff, slowly add seasoning and vinegar. Just before serving combine with cucumber.

A Loveless Marriage

The Absorbing Story of a Woman's Heart

By RUBY M. AYERS.

(Copyright, 1922.)

SIXTH INSTALLMENT.

My father took a turn for the worse that night, and we had to have a doctor. I wondered if he would see anything suspicious about the nose and asked Miss Linnie that we were not afraid, but she only laughed.

"But you, he's been here before. We had a shooting affair once, and he came and saw to it for us. Two of them got quarreling. Oh, he knows all about it, bless you, and it pays him to shut his eyes and hold his tongue!"

The doctor, whoever it was, spoke very gravely of my father, and for two days and nights I hardly left his bedside.

I used to sit there through the long hours and think of Richard, and wonder when I should see him again.

I had changed very little since that morning he strode off through the long grass and left me weeping by the stream. He was taller and broader, of course, but he still had the smooth brown skin and the thick brown hair that made despite efforts to curl when he gave it the least excuse, and had so admired when I was 12.

On the third day, when my father was better again, I wrote him a note.

I just said that father had been desperately ill, and that I had not been able to go out. I slipped out to get myself dressed, and it was on my way back that I met Mr. Furnival. He had not been to the house since that night when he kissed me, and I would have passed him without speaking had he not stopped.

"What's the matter, Marjorie?" he held my hand so that I could not escape. "Are you still angry about what happened the other night? Silly child! You wouldn't want to hear what I was going to say, so you must hear it now. Marjorie, will you marry him?"

He made his proposal in the voice of a man who is perfectly sure he will not be refused. In the dusk of the evening I saw the amazement in his eyes when I answered him promptly.

"No!"

It was not a very polite refusal, but I did not feel polite. I wanted to get away. I hated the clasp of his hand on my wrist; I hated the eagerness of his eyes as they searched my face.

"You look very nice," he said complacently.

I did not answer; I loathed myself for dressing up for such traffic, but what could I do?

Once before when I had refused him he had struck me—I had appealed to Furnival for protection then; now I had not even him to whom I could appeal.

Voices sounded in the hall below; Furnival had his own latch key; and then steps ascended the stairs.

My father spoke in his peremptory voice.

"Marjorie," I turned, "May I introduce you to my daughter, gentlemen," he went on to the two men who had entered. "Mr. Seldon—Mr. Tempest."

I felt the blood rushing away from my heart. I closed my eyes with a feeling of faintness and opened them with a violent effort to find myself face to face with Richard!

He gave no sign of having seen me or known me before, when I laid my shaking hand on his, his grasp was so firm and close. "Can't remember that little word that had always been Richard's nickname for me roused me to fury."

"I wouldn't marry you if you were the only man in the world!" I said. "I hate you! I hate the sight of your face and the sound of your voice. I never want to see you again. Let me go!"

I dragged him free of the hand that held me, and walked to the door without answering.

I don't know what Mr. Furnival said to father—no mention of his visit was made, and in another week father was up and about again.

She looked at me with an odd expression in her eyes, but she walked to the door without answering.

It is necessary for a woman to be 30 years of age before she is eligible to vote in Hungary, while married women desiring to vote must have three children to qualify for voting.

Boxer Tempts Woof Woof

By Thornton W. Burgess

When temptation hovers near, Desire leads in eager ear.

—Old Mother Nature.

MOTHER BEAR had told Boxer and Woof Woof that big enough for more than a bite, complained Woof Woof.

"Don't you think Mother Bear is silly?" whispered Boxer.

"About what?" asked Woof Woof, just as if she didn't know.

"About those two-legged creatures called men," replied Boxer.

"In fact, instead of fearing them, I like all the time."

"I don't believe there is any any good over there," said he to himself.

"Mother Bear is a fraidy," he didn't get any of that man smell. I don't believe those two-legged creatures are half as dangerous as Mother Bear thinks they are. Anyway, I hate to give up a good thing without at least trying for it."

The next day he watched Mother Bear was some distance away digging for roots.

MY FAVORITE STORIES
By IRVIN S. COBB

(One of a series of short funny stories by the celebrated American humorist which appear daily in the Post-Dispatch on this page.)

A CHANCE FOR THE VISITING ANGEL.

WEN William Travers Jerome was District Attorney of New York he started a crusade of prosecutions against fortune tellers, soothsayers and fake mediums, who at that time infested parts of Manhattan Island in numbers. A county detective named Al Thomas, a husky person with a wit of his own, was detailed to the job of securing evidence against these offenders and then arresting them.

In pursuance of his object Thomas called upon a so-called crystal gazer, pretending that he wanted a reading. The faker ushered the customer into a dimly lit room hung with black hangings and adorned with mysterious objects, presumably pertaining to black art. There he sat Thomas down at a table and taking a seat on the opposite side he took Thomas' brawny left hand, palm upward, in one of his own hands, and in the other he balanced a large glass ball.

For a period of impressive silence he alternately shifted his gaze from the stranger's palm to the ball and back again from the ball to the palm. Then seemingly he began to drift into a trance. His eyes dropped, his head nodded, then at length his lips moved, framing words.

"A shape is hovering above me," he stated in rapt tones. "It draws nearer and yet nearer—it is an angel!"

"Fine and dandy," broke in the impious tones of Detective Thomas. "If said angel is a pal of yours you'd better fetch him along with you to get up the ball money. Because you're pinched!"

METROPOLITAN MOVIES :: By GENE CARR

"But I gave you 5 cents only yesterday—what did you do with it?"

"Well, I took a taxi an' dined at the Astorbilt an' then I went to the opera."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

A HELPING HAND.
(Harry Kemp, the poet, is going into boxing.)

No more shall the populace frown
On the poet with child disregard.
No more shall the vanity look down
On the poet, poorly paid but true.
For one of the guild, who has hitherto sought
The metrical form of expression,
Is scrapping his lyre that he may acquire Fresh fame in a nobler profession.

Jack Lindsey and Percy Mackaye
Are all the lyrists who sing.
However, may it truly be,
And look at this bird in the song.
And if he pants Camel-cased Cassidy out.
They can all declaim in their joy.

"Well, well! Just one tap to the other lad's map:
That's one of us poets, that boy!"

And think how delightful 'twill be
When an editor rudely declares,
"No, we'll not give you a cent for me."
I'd not give ten cents for your wares!"

And, deftly removing his costly fur coat,
The muscular pupist ping.

With a right to the heart in defense of his art
Lays the magazine chap on the rug!

Let poets with eager acclaim
Get back of this glove-pushing lad.
Here's a clever, athletic higher form.
There's a clever poet who has.

And after a while when the brethren have basked
In the light from the ring-side reflected.

If he just has the punch all the verse-writing bunch
Will find that their trade is respected.
